Correspondence of the Charleston Mercury. Washington, Feb, 1, 1851.

Yesterday an animated little debate sprung up in the Senate on a resolution of inquiry offered by Mr. Mason as to the propriety of allowing compensation to the owners of the Amistad negroesf President Polk had recommended that these slaves, set free by the judicial authorities of the United States, should be paid for, that purpose, but failed in the House of Representatives. Mr. Chase and Mr. Hale opposed Mr. Mason's, resolution, and Mr. Clay took the occasion to launch out against these Senators for agitating the slavery question. He athrened that all opposition to the Compromise was dead, and that thus the anticipations of its au thors and defenders, were verified. Mr. Hale replied, and amongst other things, said that so abborred was the Compromise, that if any of its supporters would come before the people of the United States, as a candidate for President or any other office, he would soon find himself a wreck, and like the man, who, whilst others were catching hold of whatever would float, for safety, was himself made fast to the anchor do would speedily reach a depth from which there was no return. Here the Vice President, as usual, called Hale to order. He saw that the Compromise was about to be opened for debate, and from the facts of several Senators, no other attendant. He is always ready to that it would be handled without much forbearance, and to stop all, he must stop Mr. Hale, Mr. Clay to go on as he pleased, and as soon as he was replied to, discovered that it was all out of order.

The election of Mr. Rantoul to fill Mr. Winthrop's place till next 4th of March, is supposed here, will bring to an end the long controversy as to the Massachusetts Senatorship,-it being taken for granted that the abolitionists will not get their share of the bargain by the election of Mr. Summer for the six years ensuing.

The news from Mississippi, I learn, is very cheering for the South. Foote is going still deeper down, and has but the merest remaant already arrived at New York. The Leander, of strength left. Messrs. Clay, Foote, and it will be remembered, was lost at sea on the Ritchie, have blown their rams horns long and way from Cape Haytien to Boston, and the Instily,-doubtless they have been delighted and crew taken into Bermuda. Relative to the exhalted by the display of their own sonorous imprisonment of Capt, Mayo at Cape Haytien powers,-but the walls of Southern resistance are not yet shaken.

Have you remarked the recent faming and fretting between Mr. Mathew and Gov. Means! man was arrested, placed in jail, and afterwards Was there ever before exhibited as much malice | delivered up to the captain. The man swore mixed with as much absurdity?

If any man doubts whether the Bible sanctions the principles of slavery, let him read the first five verses of St. Paul's Epistle to Timothy. He will there find, that the master, instead of being, as the abolitionists denounce him, a monster and a criminal, as accounted "worthy of all honor." The character of those who "teach otherwise," the abolitionists, is admirably drawn by the inspired writer. As all men do not confinement. To a petition from the United read their Bible with the strictest attention and regularity, we will transcribe the verses.

1. Let as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honor, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2. And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved partakers of the benefit. Prince Bobo, the chief in command, was about These things teach and exhort.

3. If any man teach otherwise and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness.

4. He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railing, evil surmisings.

5. Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of truth, supposing that gain is godliness—from such withdraw thyself. What a correct portrait of the character of prison at Cape Haytien. - Boston Traveller the abolitionists of our day! And what wholesome advice does the Apostle give! "From such withdraw thyself." - South Side Democrat.

Mock Auctions Again .- It really seems to us as if cautions to strangers in our city are absolutely thrown away. We have many times warned them against the practice of the keepers of mock auction shops; yet almost every day we hear of some fresh instance of rascality .-Yesterday a very daring effort at swindling was made at a Peter Funk establishment not a thousand miles from here.

A stranger entered the shop, when his attention was arrested by a watch and and a lot of keeps.

knives which were put up for sale together, and which the auctioneer declared were going foralmost nothing. The confiding stranger bid seven dollars and a half, when, to his great astonishment, he was told that the "lot" was his, at a "great bargain." He took a twenty dollar bill from his pocket and handed it to the clerk, with a request to have the change returned.

" Change !" said the clerk, with an air of astonishment. "Why, my friend, this is not enough by a hundred dollars. Let me see; fifteen dozen knives at $7 and a half a dozen. that's $112.50, and $7.50 for the watch, make precisely $120. Yes, sir, that's exactly $100 that you owe us yet."

"I assure you, said the astonished stranger, "I bid on the whole lot at once. You are certainly laboring under a mistake."

The clerk, however, declared that he was correct; $120 was the gentleman's bid, and he would have to pay it; "and besides," said he, "we will have no fuss in this store, so get out your money while I make out your bill."

With these words he took a pistol from a drawer, and laying it on the table turned to his desk to write. The stranger not relishing being so unceremoniously diddled out of his eash besides being bullied and threatened with a dose of lead, immediately seized on the pistol, cocked it, and pointing it at the clerk, declared thas if his money was not returned directly he would see what efficacy there was in a pistol ball. This summary method of proceeding had money from his pocket, and handing it over, said with a smile, "Oh! certainly, sir," here is your money; I merely thought perhaps you'd very latest styles, from he house of Beebe & Cos like to buy a pistol."

The stranger left the shop a little wiser than he went in; but we greatly fear that many more who follow him will not get off so easily. N. O. Picayune.

HORSEBACK RIDING IN MADEIRA.-The Hon. John A. Dix, in his recent work, "A Winter in Madeira," gives an amusing account of horseback riding in Funchal. For thirty cents an hour a fine horse may be hired at any livery stable, together with a man as attendant, who follows on foot; and when you desire to ride fast, he catches held of your horses tail and is drawn along. In this way he prevents you from running away from him. Mr. Dix says that the horses soon become accustomed to these human appendages, and that the fellows have a way of making the horses go fast or slow, as they desire, in spite of the rider. Mr. Dix says that for ladies this association of horse and driver is a great convenience. They need render any assistance; if the horse looses a shoe, he has a hammer and nails in his pocket This is not the first time that he has allowed to replace it. It is not easy to fancy a more ludierous spectacle than a lady riding through the city at full gallop with a man hanging to the tail of her horse; but such scenes are of hourly occurrence in Funchal, and the eye soon becomes accustomed to them.

The late case of Imprisonment of an American Sea Captain at Hayti .- We learn from the Messrs. Lewis, of this city, owners of the brig Leander, that Capt. Mayo, the former commander, is now on his way to this city from Berunda via Halifax. Some of the crew have we have the following particulars: Capt. Mayo applied to the authorities of Cape Haytien to arrest one of his crew who had deserted. The to be revenged, and shortly afterwards gave information to the Haytien authorities that Capt. Mayo had sauggled $9,000 worth of dry goods into that port. Though the whole cargo of the Leander amounted to less than the alleged value smuggled, yet Capt. Mayo was arrested by the authorities of the port, and thrown into the common criminal prison, a place of most disgusting filth and misery, where from three to five hundred negroes are at times in States Agent, that he might be confined in the fort, the answer was, that it was too good a place for a "white" man. Here Capt. Mavo remained six days, and was at length released without examination, the authorities having become convinced of the groundlessness of the charges against him. The United States Agent then made a formal demand for damages, and so alarmed were the authorities that to grant it, when Baron La Groue arrived from the capital. He also assented to the justice of tie claim, but said it could not be paid without an order from the Emperor, with whom cash is quite scarce at present. A short time since an English schooner at Aux Cayes received and obtained from the Haytien government $5,000 damages for a less aggravated outrage. It is a singular fact that the man who thus unjustly accused Captain Mayo died on the passage home of fever, contracted while in the Jan. 25.

Convivialities in Prison .- The prisoners in jail in Cincinnati were treated on Christmas day to a substantial dinner in the jail.

Speeches were made by the prisoners, and after dinner a number of dances were given by a colored boy. In the evening, a young man, one of the invited guests, attempted to have some sport with the thieves, when his watch suddenly disappeared. After he had complained about the loss sometime, one of the thieves handed him his watch, coolly remarking,

JAMES WILSON.

For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION

The annals of medical science, affording as they do ample proof of the power and value of many medical agents, have turnished no examples to compare with the salutary effects produced by "AYER'S CLERRY PECTORAL."

The remarkable cures of the disease of the Lungs which have been realized by its use, attested as they are by many prominent professors and physicians in this and foreign lands, should encourige the afflicted to persevere with the strong assurance that the use of the Cheary Pectoral will relieve and ultimately cure them.

We present to the public unsolicited testimonials from some of the first men in our country, upon whose judgement and experience implicit confidence may be placed.

Dr. PERKINS, President Vt. Medical College one of the most learned and intelligent physicians in the country, considers it a *composition of rare excellence for the cure of that formidable disease,

Consumption." Norwich, April 26, 1846. Dr. J. C. Ayer-Dear Sir :- Agreeable to the request of your agent, we will cheerfully state what we have known of the effects of your CHER-RY PECTORAL and they have been astonishing indeed. Mrs. Betsey Streeter had been afflicted with a severe and relentless cough, which reduced her very low ; so low that little hope could be entertained of her recovery. Numerous remedies had been tried without effect, before the Cherry Pectoral. And that has cured her. Gearge Wat-kinson had to our knowledge been afflicted with asthma, for eleven years, and grown yearly worse, until the Cherry Pectoral has now removed the disease and he is as free from any of its symp toins as we are. The Rev. Mark Dane had been so severely attacked with the Bronchitis, as to disable him from his duties, and nothing had afforded him relief until I (Mr. Thorniag) carried him a bottle of your Pectoral, which cured him at once, and he now officiates as usual in this place. These are three of the cases in which we have kdown it successful, but never tail. We have great pleasure in certifying ,o these facts ; and are respected sir, your humble servants.

RER. D. THORNING.

HON. J. BATTLES.

Among the distinguished authorities who have given their names to recommend "Cherry Pectoras the best remedy that is known for the Af fections of the lungs, are "London Lancet," "Canadia: Journal of Medical Science," "Boston Medical and Surgical Journal," "Charleston (S.S.) Medical Review," "New Jersey Medical Reporter," Prof. Webster, Harvard College, Prof, Bart. lett, Transalvania University of Mecicine, President Perkins, Vermont Medical College, Dr. Valentine Mott, New York City, Parker Bowdon College, Prof. Butterfield, Willoughby College, Ohio, Prof. Braithwaite, Leeds (Eng.) Medical School, Sir Richard Kanc, Queen's College, Ireland, Prof. Rosenbaum, Leipsic.

The public have but to know the virtues and astonishing success of the "Cherry Pectoral," in curing diseases of the lungs, when they will feel secure from these dangers, whenever this remedy can be obtained.

HOME TESTIMONY.

MR. Z. J. DEHAY—Dear Sir—I feel it a duty which I owe to society at large, and those who suffer wi h Dyspepsia in particular, to add my testimony to the virtue of Allen's Com for the sake of seeing my name in print, but for Truth's sake. I procured a bottle of you last June, which relieved me so much that I was induced to try a second, which completed what the first began—my appetite, which before was insatiable, became natural and regular, and how enjoy better health than I had done for three years previous to using that invaluable medicine. You're periodly at liberty to make whatever use of this you please. Respectfully yours. Z. MARSHALL. Chesterfield, S. C., Dec. 10, 1850.

DR. LEIDY'S Restorative and Wonthly Pills.

A CCOMPANIED with a small sampliet, containing full directions, useful hints, information and advice to temales from youth or puberty

Nature will be much assisted by their use, in anticipation of certain periods, or where the irregularity, suppression or absence of the natural changes, and will relieve the auffering, pain and distress common to many at those periods. There are other times, also, when the married and single will find them useful. Mothers do not mistake the ailings of your daughters; when afflicted with Head ache, Dizzi-ness, Fainting, Loss of Appetite, Sickness of the Stomach, Pains in the Sides or Breasts, Pains along the Back, Spine or across the Loins, Hyster!cal or Nervous feeling, Depression or Lowness of the Spirits, Melancholy Dislike to exercise and society, Palpitation of Heart, Bleeding at the nese &c. Too often are medicines given them for Liser complaints, D.spepsia, Consumption, &c., when the real cause is not suspected; and through improper medicines and treatment their constitutions are destroyed; and their constitutions are de stroyed, and they become miserable during life. Thousands of Females in Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Baltimore and elsewhere know the efficacy of those Pills, and many could be referred to, but delicacy and respect to the sex forbids it.
